Crosby Ravensworth Primary School Celebrates Glowing OFSTED Report

Crosby Ravensworth Primary School is delighted to share the outcome of its recent OFSTED inspection, which highlights the school's many strengths and celebrates the vibrant, nurturing community at its heart.

The report opens with praise for the school's ethos, stating:

"Pupils are happy to be part of this warm and caring school. They feel welcome as soon as they join."

Inspectors consistently recognised the school's high expectations, supportive teaching staff, and enriching curriculum. They commented on pupils' respectful behaviour, their love of reading, and the many exciting learning experiences on offer—from working with rap artists to rock climbing with peers from neighbouring schools.

The report concludes on a high note, noting:

"Governors, staff and parents alike share in the school's vision to provide pupils with a high-quality and well-rounded education. They are proud to be part of the school, which they described as 'like a family'. Parents were effusive in their praise for staff."

Headteacher Duncan Priestley said:

"We are so proud of this report. It reflects the dedication of our wonderful staff, the hard work of our pupils, and the incredible support from families and governors. It's a celebration of the whole school community."

With a notable rise in the local birth rate, the school is anticipating significant growth in pupil numbers in the coming years. This positive inspection outcome ensures Crosby Ravensworth is well-placed to welcome new families into its thriving and forward-looking learning environment.
